Elaine Kilgore

And I'm here to say that a lot of our election integrity, wants to work with the board of elections. We want to see that people are removed that need to be removed from the election boards are. We don't have a beef with any of you, except for the you know, we are highly suspicious of the Dominion machines and maybe some algorithms that can be in it. But when one of the people were here in the summer, a lady whose daughter had a live-in boyfriend had been gone from the house for several couple of years. She came up and wanted to have that man removed. All right, and I was just kind of gobsmacked that. Y'all couldn't help her remove that man from heat no longer besides there. It seems like it would be a very simple matter to you know, send a little card you know, or send an investigator to resident residents and find out if he lives there or not. And to me, the burden of proof should be with the resident or the voter. I'm here because I want to guarantee everybody has a fear that if someone has an illegal vote, or or a fake vote or whatever it's called in taste to legal votes to make up for that I want everybody here to have the best confidence in our election integrity hearing and that's all we want. We'd love to work with you. And you know, clean up the voter rolls, but we need to see some you know, like that you have the desire especially that one lady I forget what her name was, but she would have been a longtime resident in Fayette County. So, I hope that we can work together, especially when the resident knows that that person no longer resides. Thank you.

For the record Elaine, woman's name is Sonia Estes. My name is Susan rather than Peachtree City. I'm going to use my favorite phrase today we the people. We the People are everyday citizens across America. And we are needed to ensure that the 2022 elections are conducted in a lawful manner. Attempts to ensure that our elections are conducted in a lawful manner during the 2020 election. were largely reactive in nature, individuals and organizations dedicated to election integrity will now be proactive in their efforts to ensure lawful elections. If you are someone who seeks to cast a vote illegally, We the People are watching. If you are someone who is illegally trafficking ballots and depositing their vet drop boxes, we the people are watching if you're someone who has left the key under them Vanek for digital fees, to manipulate election records We the People are watching. If you're a digital thief, seeking to manipulate election records, we the people are watching if you're tabulating votes on location that does not allow oversight by the public. We the People are watching if you are manipulating our voter rolls so as to allocate pellets to people who did not actually vote. Be they dead or alive. We the People are watching if you're attempting to provoke lawful citizens to conduct acts of violence. We the People are watching, and we the people will not take your Wii. If you attempt to masquerade agent provocateurs, as members of our groups we the people are watching, and we will ensure the world knows the truth. If you are an elected official pursuing policies that seek to cover up illegal election practices with people are watching. If you are destroying election records before they tend to legally be destroyed, when the people are watching. In the final analysis, it is more transparency that will give the public confidence in the results of our elections, not less. We the People are a nation of laws. We the People now have a cadre of law enforcement officers dedicated to enforcing our laws. We the People now have a cadre of lawyers dedicated to prosecuting violations of our laws. We the People. Now there's a cadre of judges willing to judge cases on the merits of the evidence, not false narratives by media pundits. We the People, our law enforcement officers, we the people are poll workers. We the People are election officials. We the People are polled challengers. We are everyday citizens. In the wake of the rapid decline of our nation after the 2020 election we the people now have an American public who is growing increasingly aware of the importance of election integrity. We the People don't want lawlessness. We the People don't want lawful votes. suppressed. We the people will be watching

Joanne Kilalkelly

I just want to say that I am thankful for the job that you do on the board. I'm thankful for the elections that you run, which I have not seen any evidence of there being a problem with post elections. I hear not only in this county but across the country claims of problems with voting claims of various kinds of voter fraud without a shred of evidence to prove those claims. I hear threats to challenge the election. Results before votes are passed. I think we're living in a dangerous time for our democracy. And I just want to let you know that I appreciate what I see you trying to do here. I've been coming to meetings now for a few months. And I see how you do try to explain all the time, what you do and how you do it and the processes that you use, and thankful that you follow the law. And I'm glad those processes are in place, and I just want to thank you for that.
